To avoid the fogging of the glass, before diving, clean the lens of your mask with a very soft abrasive cream or with a normal toothpaste. Wear the diving mask and adjust the strap so that the skirt comfortably fits your face. After every use rinse immediately your mask in fresh water. Occasional wash using a mild detergent or neutral soap.

When diving the waterpressure may compress the eardrum and the mask on the face. In the first case the pressure in the ear must be compensated by closing the nose with twofingers and trying to blow trough the nose. in the second case you must effectively blow through the nose.
